Care at Each Step.

Because of the cunning and resource fulness of the eminent lawyers in the pay of the Gas Trust, it is necessary that every step taken shall be in stricaccordance with the law, inasmuch as the questions of the constitutionality of the 80-cent bill and the right of the representatives of the people to pass laws for the benefit of the people are in process of adjudication in the courts. Those members of the bar who were invited to the meeting but were unable on account of the pressure of professional duties to attend sent letters or telephone messages expressing their de-
